

Community Choirs and Music-related Volunteering Groups for Youths

From time to time, AMTS receives queries on music groups that the public can join to improve their health through music participation. As such, we have compiled a resource list of local community choirs and music-related volunteering groups that we are aware of. We have focused this list on groups suitable for youths, although they may be open to other age groups as well. We hope that this list will enable more people to benefit from the power of music.

Please approach the groups directly if you wish to join them. If you would like to list your group on our resource page, please email AMTS at musictherapy.sg@gmail.com

Disclaimer: Please note that the resources are not music therapy services and are only for general information and leisure. AMTS disclaims any and all liabilities in connection with the contents of this resource. Please consult a music therapist in our professional member directory if support is required to access these resources.
